Symphony Of Personalities

By Constance Anne

Constance Anne (Connie) is an artist based in London. This solo show, Symphony of Personalities is a celebration of characters and personalities that have lived in Constance's imagination, bursting to be shared, and now finally spilling onto canvas.

Those of you who have followed her journey will be familiar with her art. Her paintings celebrate characters that are distinctive, enigmatic, but elegant. There is a deliberate distortion of the face and body using strong lines with statuesque contortions. Her portraits all share whimsical expressions developed to evoke a sense of feeling and mood and to question what the character is feeling and why; where have they been; what have they been doing? Are they happy or sad, or do they share the cocktail of conflicting emotions that living life brings? Colour is important in her art. Her paintings display both vibrant and muted colour palettes which assist to create mood with the enigma of joy and sadness combined. Her signatures can be found in two forms: in focus (emphasis on the face) or in perspective (figures are more posed, in context or referencing a story or feeling). Shape, lines and geometric marks are a key element of her paintings.

The characters all have a unique personality. She names them as they are alive as characters for her and she hopes that when they each have a home they will be cherished as personalities in their new homes.

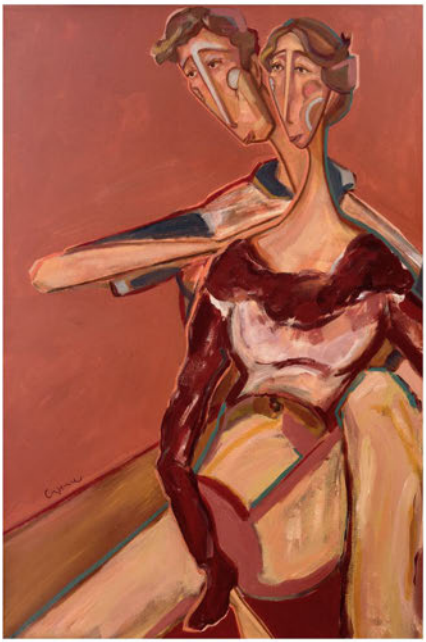

Constance was born in Liverpool but moved to London to study Design Engineering at Imperial College. It is fitting that she has chosen her first solo show to take place in an area of London that has a special place in her heart: she lived in Notting Hill during her first year of study.

After qualifying as an engineer, she has worked in the engineering industry for several years, but her passion has always been to paint which she has done since childhood. Just over 12 months ago she decided to focus on her art and follow her dreams.

“Perfectly imperfect”

In addition to the paintings, there is a small selection of “perfectly imperfect” pots and objects. It seems desperately sad that just because a pot is old or chipped or not inherently beautiful it should be discarded or hidden. Connie has given these beautiful objects a new lease with a character or two from her playlist, hoping that they will now be allowed to be seen and not hidden.

A message from Constance

Dear friends, I want to thank you all for your support. Thank you to all who have purchased and/or loved my paintings and the characters who live in them. I have received so many lovely messages and they have given me the confidence to believe that this is what I am meant to do.

My paintings have travelled to live across the world. With 'Clara' in Italy, 'Penelope' in Switzerland, 'Rowan' in Denmark and more personalities living in places like the USA, Canada, Spain, Germany and Saudi Arabia, they have travelled further than I ever have. And of course, it is wonderful to know that they are also here in beautiful homes across the UK and Ireland, hopefully bringing joy to you all.

I hope this solo show will allow my paintings to be enjoyed in person in a space together and for them to be further shared. I hope that you will all love the characters and personalities in them, as much as I do.

Thank you again.
